BUYING TOBACCO IN CALLOWAY AND CAUSING GOSSIP

People Wonder at Activity and Temerity of Mayfield and Paris Buyers.

Crosses of Honor Bestowed on Veterans.

PERSONALS FROM CALLOWAY.

Murray, Ky., Jan. 21. (Special.)—Considerable stir was caused in tobacco circles yesterday afternoon when it became known that independent tobacco buyers were riding Caloway county, buying tobacco. Reports received from several sections, more especially the southern portion of the county, indicate that many farmers are disposing of their 1908 holdings at prices that range from 7 to 11 cents for loose leaf tobacco.

Buyers, who are riding the county, represent Paris, Tenn., and Mayfield, Ky., dealers. Mr. H. B. Douthitt, who is a contractor for the Italian government at Paris, being in the county in person. Besides Mr. Douthitt, two buyers from Mayfield have been heard from in the western portion of the county.

A Paducah firm telephoned to Murray this morning to a local buyer and endeavored to employ him to go into the field and represent them, but failed to reach an agreement.

It is the first effort made to buy tobacco in Caloway county this season. There is some talk of an independent house being opened in Murray.

Crosses of Honor.
The bestowal of crosses of honor upon Confederate veterans by the J. N. Williams chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy at the Methodist church Tuesday night was a very pleasant event and a large crowd of Murray citizens were present. Green Thornton, J. C. Karp and Joe Outland received medals, which were presented by Mrs. Abe Schrodorfer in pretty presentation speech. A delightful musical and literary program was also rendered.

New Law Firm.
Hon. J. Clay Erwin, who sought the appointment for county judge to succeed Judge A. J. G. Wells, has entered into a partnership with the Hon. J. C. Speight, of Mayfield, and F. F. Acree, of Murray, for the practice of law. The style of the firm will be Acree, Speight & Erwin.

The interior of the county judge's office has been repainted, painted and decorated since Judge Patterson took charge. Several of the other county officers have caught the spirit of improvement from Judge Patterson and are livening up their offices with paint and paper.

Calloway Personals.
Miss Ruby Fulton and Mr. Arthur Farmer, a prominent young couple of Murray, went to Paris, Tenn., Wednesday and were married. The bride is the daughter of Mr. C. B. Fulton, cashier of the Farmers' and Merchants' bank, and is an exceedingly handsome young lady. Mr. Farmer is a son of Mr. Ewing Farmer and is a sterling young man.

Mr. Edward Foster, a well known farmer of the Crossland vicinity died suddenly Tuesday of heart failure. He was sitting before the fire and apparently well when he fell to the floor dead. He leaves a family.

A son was born Wednesday to Attorney and Mrs. T. W. Randolph.

ARCADIA BIDDING FOR COUNTY HIGH WITH ENTHUSIASM

Residents in the vicinity of Arcadia are working right ahead in their efforts to secure the location of the first county high school, should the county school trustees not make arrangements for the county graduate to attend the city high school without tuition. The Gregory Heights Land company has donated a block of property in the addition should the school be located in Arcadia. The lot is valued at several thousand dollars. The residents have subscribed and made donations to the amount of about $1,000 as a bonus to induce the school board to locate the school in the suburb. The addition is building up rapidly, and the residents realize that it would be a boon to secure the school, as the county would be put to the expense of about $20,000 for a suitable building, besides the operating of the school.

Unionists Win Their Contest For Possession of Church Property in Kentucky From the Loyalists

Court of Appeals Holds That it Cannot Take Jurisdiction Over Matters of Religious Belief.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 21. (Special.)—In reversing the case of Wallace vs. Hughes from Union county, Judge Barker, delivering the opinion of the court, with Judge Nunneley dissenting and Judge Settle not sitting, held the union between the Cumberland and Presbyterian church of the United States valid. The court says authority was not exceeded in forming the union. Civil courts, declares Barker, have nothing to do with the matter of religious beliefs, which must be settled by the church's own means. He holds that under the Presbyterian church's law property belongs to that portion of the congregation which allied with the Presbyterian church.

On the issue of uniting with the northern branch of the Presbyterian church under the style Presbyterian church of the United States, the Cumberland general assembly split. Those who favored the union so organized, and those who remained with the Cumberland church continued by that name. Then arose a contest for possession of the church property in many places. Lawsuits are pending in several states.

HESSIG CASE REVERSED AS TO ONE PART AND OTHERWISE AFFIRMED AT FRANKFORT

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 21. (Special.)—The appellate court in the suit of F. G. Rudolph, guardian of Carl and Fred Hessig, versus Dr. H. T. Hessig, reversed on the original appeal and affirmed the decision of the lower court on cross-appeal.

The suit has been one of the most interesting carried up from McCracken county. In the lower court F. G. Rudolph sued Dr. H. T. Hessig, and the Fidelity Deposit company of Maryland, to recover about $25,000. The lower court gave a decision of $6,000 against Hessig, but dismissed the Fidelity company. Hessig took an appeal, while Rudolph, the administrator for the children, took a cross-appeal to recover the money from the company. The decision of the appellate court reverses the decision.

One of the vacant houses on the city farm, several miles from the city, was destroyed by fire this morning between 4 and 5 o'clock. It is thought that the fire was of incendiary origin, as the house had not been in use for several months. The house has been used as a pest house, but is located across the railroad track from the houses which are now occupied. The house was furnished. Mr. William Wheeles, the pesthouse keeper, saw the fire, and when he reached the building the roof was falling in. A fire was in the stove, and it is evident that some one set the building on fire. The loss will amount to about $300.

PATROLMAN MERRY KILLS NEGRO WHEN SHOTS RETURNED

Effort of Police to Break Up Hobo Camp by Station Results in Death.

Charles Lyles, of Evansville Found Dying.

THE INQUEST THIS AFTERNOON

The coroner's jury exonerated Patrolman Merry.

In a pistol duel last night about 11 o'clock near the Union station, Patrolman Fred Merry shot and killed a young negro, believed to be Charles Lyles, of Evansville. The negro died in a few minutes after being shot, as the shot entered just to the right of the spine, and is supposed to have ranged upward. Three negroes had opened fire upon the lone policeman. Two companions of the dead man escaped. Immediately after the shooting Patrolman Merry surrendered to the police.

Patrolman Merry is stationed at the Union station at night, without a partner. About 11 o'clock he saw a fire burning brightly near the east side of the crossing of the tracks of the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis and Illinois Central railroads. A freight train had been in about an hour, and the patrolman started for the fire, as all camps of the hobos are raided. He walked up along a string of box cars. Reaching a car opposite the fire, Patrolman Merry stooped down and looked under the car. Three negroes, one a tall, yellow negro, and two smaller companions were warming about the blaze. The tall negro answered the description of a negro that is wanted by the police.

The Shooting.

Patrolman Merry walked the length of two box cars to the end of the train, and around the cars. When he was about 65 feet from the fire he called for the negroes to walk to him. At his command the three men began running rapidly towards O'Brien's addition. He pulled his pistol and shot up into the air to frighten them. At this there was a flash, and Patrolman Merry heard a bullet whiz near him. He lowered his pistol and fired two shots, taking aim at where he had seen the flash.

The running did not cease as he heard the patter of feet rapidly up a walk. Over toward the fire, the patrolman heard groans, and he hurried to the station and secured a lantern. With J. M. Sexton, night baggage agent, Patrolman Merry found the negro dying about 75 yards from the fire. The patrol wagon was called and Patrolmen Terrell, Baker, Morris and Stewart answered. The negro was carried to the undertaking establishment of Matti, Eisinger & Roth. After Coroner Frank Baker had ordered the body removed.

When searched no pistol was found on the negro or near the scene, and it is believed that one of his companions returned the fire. The negro wore a sweater, a coat, several shirts and two pairs of trousers. A blank book was found in his pocket with the name "Charles Lyles, Evansville, Ind." Also the name of "Laura Baker" was found. The negro was about 20 years old.

After the killing Patrolman Merry rode to the police station, where he surrendered to Lieutenant William Beale and remained at the station. Patrolman Merry has been on the force about a year, and has made a good record as patrolman. Patrolman Merry regrets that he killed the man, but he felt he only protected himself when he fired.

A thorough examination of the papers on the body convinces the police that Lyles was the dead man's name. From his possessions he must have been a traveling musician or a performer in a minstrel show, as he had burnt cork, a joke book, guitar strings, a long pipe, and other personal possessions worth a few cents.

Coroner Frank Baker set the inquest for 2 o'clock this afternoon.

No one was found in the city that knew Lyles, and it is presumed that he had just arrived on a freight train last night. The police have not located his two companions.

TWO NEW STATES

LEADERS AGREED ON ARIZONA-NEW MEXICO BILL.

Friends of Territories Expect to Win Beverage Over-Roosevelt Anxious.

Washington, Jan. 21.—Republican leaders have practically agreed upon the provisions of the statehood bill giving single statehood to the two remaining territories, Arizona and New Mexico, and the bill probably will be reported favorably to the house within a few days. Delegate Andrews, of New Mexico, has been holding long conferences with Speaker Cannon the last two days, spending two or three hours at a time with him going over the proposed measures and discussing conditions in the territories in all their details. James E. Watson, of Indiana, is assisting the friends of statehood in the territories and pushing it along as much as he can.

There is understood to be only a little difference now regarding some county bonds in the territories which is to be straightened out, and Mr. Andrews, Chairman Hamilton, of the committee on territories, and Mr. Watson are engaged in that task now. The speaker has satisfied himself and will offer no objection to the passage of the bill in the house, although it had been preferred that the senate pass the measure first.

Senators Foraker and Flint are actively working for the legislation in the senate end, and while Senator Beveridge, chairman of the committee on territories, is said to oppose the single statehood proposition, it is believed his opposition can be overcome. Those who are for the bill will get enough support from the Democrats, it is believed, to force Mr. Beveridge into line finally.

The president is anxious to sign bills completing the great union of states by the absorption of the two last remaining territories before he leaves the white house, and he has given encouragement to the people of New Mexico and Arizona on every occasion when they have called on him.

News of Theatres

"The Smart Set." "The Smart Set," a musical comedy innovation, is set down for a visit here next week on Wednesday at the Kentucky theater.

"Buster Brown." Announced for Thursday night of this week "Buster Brown," the musical comedy skit, based on R. F. Outcault's famous cartoons of the hopeful son of the Brown family, will appear at The Kentucky. This season the name part of the play is done by Master Itice, a miniature comedian of much merit.

"Polly of the Circus." "Polly of the Circus," Margaret Mayo's melodrama, which has enjoyed great popularity and a long run in New York, opened at Macaulay's for a week's engagement last night, says Tuesday's Louisville Herald, and a big audience gave hearty evidences of approval. It is a rather elaborate production organized by that young Napoleon of theatrical purveyors, Frederic Thompson, and skillfully staged by another young man of parts, Winchell Smith. The company is headed by Edith Tallferro, a younger sister of Mabel. Miss Edith is a nice, sweet girl, and last night she made a most decided personal impression.

As for the play itself it is full of types to entertain and amuse, and the circus ring, with performers at work, in the last act is a novelty of the sensational sort, which causes talk and means popularity. It is a story of some very real and effective touches of sincere sentiment and genuine humor. The love of the circus clown and Big Jim, the boss canvasman, for the little orphan Polly, provides a bit of real pathos and altogether the play, while built along broad and conventional lines of melodrama, is strong and human in its elements.

The story has to do with a young woman, Polly, who suffers an accident while the circus is playing a small town, and is left in the care of a young preacher. During her convalescence she is the pastor's pupil in the learning of certain graces of civilization, and, of course, the inevitable romance develops during the eleven months she is left in his care. The complications arise from the narrow bigotry and prejudice of the pastor's rural flock, who proceed to make it unpleasant for such an undesirable person as a "circus rider." After declaring she will never leave her friend and benefactor, Polly learns that he is likely to suffer by reason of her presence, and decides to rejoin the circus. The new and more normal life, however, has taken all the zest out of the old existence, and when the preacher comes for her when the circus visits the scene of her awakening she turns her back on circus life, murmuring in the language of Ruth to Naomi, "Whither thou goest I shall go."

Earl Ryder supports Miss Tallferro, playing the part of the preacher, the Rev. John Douglass, who denounces the hypocrites of his congregation in vigorous fashion and scandalizes his flock by loving a queen of the sawdust ring. Mr. Ryder is a handsome fellow, who acts as a familiar face.

S.S.S. PURELY VEGETABLE

It is a generally recognized truth that medicines made from vegetable ingredients are a great deal better adapted to the delicate human system, and safer in every way, than those composed of strong mineral mixtures and compounds. Mercury, potash, arsenic, etc., which are used in the manufacture of most blood medicines, are too violent in their action, and frequently derange the system by disturbing the stomach and digestion, affecting the bowels, and when used for a prolonged period often cause rheumatism. S. S. S. is the only blood medicine guaranteed absolutely and purely vegetable. It is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, selected for their purifying and healing qualities. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, and all other blood diseases, because it cleanses and purifies the blood, and in the same time builds up the entire system by its fine vegetable tonic effects. S. S. S. may be taken by young and old with absolute safety, and with the assurance that it will cure the diseases and disorders due to an impure and poisoned blood supply, even reaching down and removing hereditary taints. # A REWARD OFFERED.

Every electric railway in the United States knows the menance of "fake" accident claims and fraudulent suits. And no honest citizen exists who would not give assistance to prevent any such corrupt cause coming before our courts in the disguise of woe.

Sometimes the sad-faced rascal who brings suit was near an accident but did not receive a scratch; sometimes it is an innocent looking criminal who was not even near an accident; sometimes it is a person who was actually hurt but who was to blame himself or herself—and knows it.

Most of these suits arise when some penny-catching lawyer gets hold of a so-called "victim" as dishonest as himself and wants to "share the profits" of suing the Company.

How are such suits maintained?

By perjury.

By witnesses who do not tell the truth.

Spend as much time as you can with body and with spirit, in God's out-of-doors.—Van Dyke.

Duke de Abruzzi finds the Huns along an ant hill, compared with that pile of rocks at Elkin W. Van

A Maine hosiery concern has sent Roosevelt several pairs of yarn socks for his African trip. Anything in yarn is good on a hunting expedition.

Madisonville has had two fires and two local option elections within a year. If the night riders don't invade the town, or the court of appeals doesn't decide that election invalid, or the town doesn't catch fire again, nothing more will be heard of Madisonville until Ruby Lafoon takes to the stump.

Our most vivid figures of speech are drawn from the common evidences of nature, and so, when one, residing along the lower courses of the Ohio through last summer, refers to the "Muddy stream of politics" as a "thoroughfare, which echoes the foot-treads of hundreds of disappointed lives," he should not be indicted for mixing his metaphors.

THE CANAL SCANDAL CASE.

Through ignorance or design, anti-administration papers are asking who is behind the libel suit against the New York World and the Indianapolis News, which published the story of an alleged deal by an American syndicate in the purchase of the Panama canal. There is no suit. The federal grand jury in the District of Columbia is investigating the matter.

The president in his message to congress declared the story a libel. The grand jury of its own accord, or the district attorney might take it up. No private person could be behind the investigation. It is beyond the province of the president.

We cannot understand why New York World men are resisting service of federal subpoenas. Mr. Pulitzer made the assertion that there was a deal, and talked about a congressional investigation. He seems to be desirous of getting the facts. We know of no speedier method of bringing out the facts than criminal libel proceedings. He made the assertion that there was a deal. Now, it is up to him to prove that there was. If he can do it, that will exonerate him. Mr. Pulitzer and the publishers of the Indianapolis News and of the New York Sun, should be courting just such an investigation.

IS THE LIBRARY POPULAR?

How useful and necessary a public library has become to Paducah is indicated by the increasing use made of it during five years compared to its extension.

In 1904 there were 9,660 books circulated and 92 people enjoyed the reading room, while 1,884 children visited the children's room. The next year 24,714 volumes were circulated and 6,560 people visited the reading room, and 4,945 children. In 1905 almost 10,000 people visited the reading room and 40,267 books circulated. While 10,765 children visited the library.

It is well to bear in mind that creased 8,000 in 1908, only 979 books were added to the collection, and although the circulation of books grew steadily from 9,660 in 1904, to 40,267 in 1908, only 3,446 new books were received, showing that the use of the library has been increasing regardless of the slow growth of the number of volumes, and indicating, perhaps, that there is a demand for books which the library is not meeting because it requires money for the purchase of books, and the library has not been receiving as much money as it deserves.

The public schools are graduating a generation of library users. Children, who go through the schools, are required to use the library, and when they leave school, they are victims of the reading habit. They must have books. That is why a public dispensary of good reading matter is established. A library is not an institution for rich people; but for poor people. The rich can buy their own books, and do. In manufacturing towns, where libraries have existed for a number of years, it is the common thing for the library to be filled with men carrying dinner buckets and baskets, during the hour immediately following the closing of the factories. A man, who has acquired an appetite for good literature, in school, and learned to use the public library, will continue to use it after he leaves school.

That is why Paducah's public library must be taken care of and improved and made to grow and expand in usefulness. It is one of the greatest conservators of public peace and happiness and prosperity in which the city can invest.

That more than 20,000 people, adults and children, use the reading room in a year, means that a large per cent of the population constitute library patrons and not all those who borrow books use the reading room.

The city officials, who neglect this institution, are neglecting something that comes close home to a great many wide awake people.

FIRST CHRISTIAN

CHURCH REVIVAL CONTINUES
WITH GROWING INTEREST.Four More People Unite With the Church During Meeting—Dr.
Crossfield.

The meeting last night was one of the best of the series so far. Dr. Crossfield's sermon on "Mother, Home and Heaven," called up memories of long ago, and touched a tender chord in many hearts. Mother, home, heaven! Around this holy trinity, earnest, tenderest, holiest thoughts gathered. We forgot other things but these are words the saint, the sinner, the prodigal can never, never forget. Prof. Sturgis sang as a solo "The Prodigal," tenderly, effectively, causing the tear to glimmer in many an eye.

A large audience was present and great interest manifested. Four more people came forward to unite with the church at the close of the sermon.

The ordinance of baptism will be administered tonight to a number of converts.

Dr. Crossfield will preach on the subject, "Things That Save," and Prof. Sturgis will sing. The services of the evangelists are in constant demand by schools, clubs, societies, Sunday school workers, etc. They are untiring in their labors, often speaking three times a day, besides calling upon men and privately urging them to become Christians. There is no excitement, but much earnest thinking as the claims of Jesus are presented. Doors open tonight 7:15. Song service, 7:30. Sermon, 8 o'clock. Everybody welcome.

DIES OF CONSUMPTION AT HER
TYLER HOME.She Was the Wife of T. O. Durbin and Member of St. Francis de Sales Church.

Mrs. Melissa T. Durbin, 29 years old, died yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at her home near Tyler, of consumption. Mrs. Durbin is the wife of Mr. T. O. Durbin and had been ill almost a year before her death. She was a faithful member of the St. Francis de Sales Catholic church. Mrs. Durbin is survived by her husband and five children.

The funeral was held this afternoon at the Catholic church. The services were in charge of the Rev. Father H. W. Jansen. The burial was in the Mt. Carmel cemetery.

DOCTORS ENDORSE HERPICIDE.

Because Its Formula Is Submitted to Them.

Alexander McMillan, M. D., a prominent physician of Lansing, Michigan, writes: "On three cases I have tested Herpicide for dandruff and the result is been all that could be desired."

Herpicide is made upon an entirely new principle, that is, that dandruff and falling hair are caused from a microbe that infests the hair bulb, and, by destroying the microbe one's hair is bound to grow luxuriantly. Herpicide is the only hair remedy that claims to, and really does, destroy the dandruff germs.

Sold by leading druggists. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. R. W. Walker

Sophy of Kravonia.
By ANTHONY HOPE,
Author of "The Prisoner of Zenda."
Copyright, 1905, Anthony Hope
Hawkins.

A man of good feeling, too, to judge from another step he took—which with the cognizance of the representatives or entirely of his own motion has never become known. He waited till Colonel Stafnitz, who returned a civil and almost effusive reply to his communication, had set off to fetch the guns, which, as has been seen, had been unloaded from the railway and lay at Kolskoi, three days' journey up the Kruth; then he entered into communication with Volsen. He sent Volsen a private and friendly warning. What was the use of Volsen holding out when the big guns were coming? It could mean only hopeless resistance, more disorder, more bloodshed. Let Volsen and the lady whose claims it supported consider that, be warned in time and acknowledge King Alexis.

This letter was addressed to Zerkovitch. There were insuperable diplomatic difficulties, in the way of addressing it to Sophy directly. "Madam I may not call you, and mistress I am loath to call you," said Queen Elizabeth to the archbishop's wife. It was just a case of that sort of difficulty. He could not call her Queen of Kravonia, and she would be offended if he called her Baroness Dobrava. So the letter went to Zerkovitch, and it went by the hand of one of Zerkovitch's friends, so anxious was the general to be frank and conciliatory as circumstances permitted.

Much to his surprise, considerably to his alarm, Lepage was sent for to the general's private residence on the evening of the day on which Colonel Stafnitz sent out for Kolskoi to fetch the guns.

Stenovics greeted him cordially, smoothed away his apprehension, acquainted him with the nature of his mission and with the gist of the letter which he was to carry. Stenovics seemed more placid tonight than for some time back, possibly because he had got Stafnitz quietly out of Slavna. "Bog M. Zerkovitch to give the letter to Baroness Dobrava (he called her that to Lepage) as soon as possible and to urge her to listen to it. And that we shall be ready to treat her with every consideration—any title in reason and any provision in reason too. It's all in my letter, but repeat it on my behalf, Lepage."

"I shouldn't think she'd take either title or money, general," said Lepage bluntly.

"You think she's disinterested? No doubt, no doubt! She'll be the more ready to see the uselessness of prolonging her present attitude." He drew almost entirely injured James Boyle.

While he probably never will be definitely known just what caused it, it is presumed that one of the sticks of dynamite piled in the truck was fired from its resting place and exploded detonating the whole mass. The bodies of the men killed were mutilated beyond recognition.

"Mrs. Walter H. Clarke was hostess of a charming debutante luncheon on Tuesday, in honor of her sister, Miss Mary Bringhurst, who has recently returned from a delightful western trip. The attractive home was aglow with warmth and cheer, and a number of potted azaleas, hyacinths and ferns added to the beauty of the parlors where Mrs. Clarke and Miss Bringhurst received. A congenial party of twelve were seated at the luncheon table, the decorations of which were in pink, the color noted predominating in all the details. The centerpiece was a plaque of ferns and pink carnations, scented by colognes, candlesticks burning pink tapers under silver shades. Silver compotes held balls of ribbon candy, and the place cards were handpainted in debutante's heads. A delightful menu in seven courses was served. Mrs. Clarke received in a becoming toilette of pink crepe de chine, with tucked net yoke and trimmings of ribbon flowers. Miss Bringhurst, who is a brunet of unusual beauty, was a picture of girlish charm in a dainty frock of cream messaline, lace trimmed.

Another Volcano Active.

Maulana, Jan. 21.—The volcano Agung in the Tengahas province, which forms the southwestern part of the island of Luzon, became suddenly active between 8 and 9 o'clock last night and the eruption seriously damaged the surrounding country. No reports of loss of life have been received.

Loud reports, detonations and deep rumblings preceded the eruption and were heard during the afternoon. Telegrams received here describe the outbreak of the volcano as a "giant explosion of water." The governor of the province reports by telegraph that a large area of cultivated fields was ruined, highways were rendered impassable and many bridges destroyed. It is believed, however, that the subterranean rumblings and detonations warned the people of coming danger in time to allow them to flee to the hills, thus preventing loss of life. From advices received it appears that great tides of water rushed from the sides

BELIEVED THAT 60 MEN PERISHED

Thirty Nine Rescued From Burning Chicago Crib.

Fire and Gas Drive Them Out and Ice Choked Waters of the Lake
Greet Them.

AN INVESTIGATION IS STARTED

Chicago, Jan. 21.—People today are endeavoring to identify parts of the bodies from the lake crib fire. The remains were put in 20 sacks lying in the morgue. It is supposed they contain 48 bodies. It is believed some others are at the bottom of the lake, possibly, the coroner says, some bodies are still in the ruins. He thinks the dead may total 60. The coroner will investigate the ruins today. Witnesses will be summoned Saturday for the inquest.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—Sixty workmen are included among the list of the missing and a majority of them are known to be dead, as a result of fire which had its origin in a powder vault attached to an intermediate crib used in the construction of the new water tunnel connecting with the south side of the city at Seventy-third street.

Ninety-five Were In Crib and Tunnel.
It is known that 95 workmen were employed in the crib and the connecting tunnel at the time of the fire, but the work of the destroying element was begun so unexpectedly and reaped its harvest of the dead and injured with such swiftness that the contracting firm of George W. Jackson and the rescuers have been unable to arrive at anything like an accurate list of those who perished, and others who escaped the flames or the icy waters of the lake.

Many Slept In Crib.
Owing to the difficulty of small steam craft to reach the crib during the winter the majority of the workmen employed on the work, and particularly those without families, slept in temporary structures, and it was just as these had been awakened for the day's routine that the explosion, and subsequent fire caused pandemonium, which resulted in the loss of at least 60 lives.

As nearly as the investigators have been able to ascertain the explosion had its origin in the powder house situated about 100 yards from the crib structure proper, but at the same time being part of the general structure resting on the bottom of the lake at this point.

Noise Did Not Awaken Them.
In some manner, little short of mysterious, the deadly explosives were put into action, according to the survivors, and it was not until the heat of the flames and the stifling smoke penetrated the so-called "living room" of the crib, and the tunnel beneath the waters of the lake, that the full import of the disaster dawned upon the little colony of workmen cut off almost completely from human succor.

Telephoned for Help.
One of the workmen made his way through the smoke to the enclosure in which telephone communication had been established with the shore station and gave the alarm.

After several hours' work 39 workmen were rescued and when the fire tug Conway and its crew had succeeded in quenching the flames 53 bodies had been carried ashore and placed in the morgues in South Chicago awaiting identification.

List of Missing.
The trunks of the victims in a majority of instances are unrecognizable, and the contracting firm gave out the following list of the missing: Barney O'Connor, fireman; H. D. McDonald, time keeper; J. Thorpe, P.

Victims in Tunnel.

Until such time as the rescuers are able to enter the water tunnel which connects the shore with the crib it will not be known how many perished below the surface of the lake. Air pressure was used in this portion of the work and as the generating plant became disabled soon after the discovery of the fire it is thought certain that those at work in the tunnel must have perished. The volumes of smoke which filled the latter would be sufficient to make breathing next to impossible. The foreman in charge of the work is not certain that, however, if any of the workmen had proceeded far enough into the tunnel to make escape impossible when the alarm was given.

Clung to Ice.

Many survivors kept themselves afloat by clinging to the floating ice after they had jumped from the burning crib. It is known that at least three who had sought safety in this manner were drowned, but the majority were hauled from the water and taken aboard the tug Murford.

The majority of the bodies taken from the ruins of the crib were found near the mouth of the tunnel, the terror-stricken men evidently rushing to this spot as the last hope as the flames crept toward them. According to Captain Garland, of the United States life saving station, who assisted in the work of rescue, many bodies cannot be identified, so hardly are they charred and burned.

Clothing Burned Off.

Not a remnant of clothing was found on the mutilated trunks of the workmen who had perished in the flames.

From Seventy-first street to Seventy-eighth street the shore was lined by thousands of men, women and children who were powerless to lend aid. When the news of the disaster spread the public schools were deserted and weeping wives with their children huddled about them watched anxiously for the return trips of the struggling steam craft carrying their cargo of injured and dead. Many of these had relatives working in the tunnel, and the sorrow and suffering among the anxious watchers was pitiful.

Investigation Started.

The police already have started an investigation with a view to placing the responsibility for the disaster and Coroner Hoffman after impaneling a jury will continue the inquest for a week. Meantime George W. Jackson, president of the construction company, has made arrangements to provide burial plots for the victims, the majority of whom depended upon their hazardous toll in the tunnel for living for themselves and families.

HOME-MADE QUININE HAIR TONIC.

The high cost of a good quinine hair tonic prevents thousands of men and women from using such a preparation daily on the hair. This has resulted in the study and investigation of the subject by some bright men and women who use quinine hair tonic regularly, but who do not care to pay for the expensive ready-made tonics. They find by simply mixing one ounce of Beta-Quinol with half a pint of water and half a pint of alcohol that they can make more than a full pint of a quinine hair tonic of better quality and more beneficial to the hair than any of the widely advertised brands. A tonic made as described here will help the hair to become beautiful, glossy, long and abundant. It tends to prevent dandruff and falling hair and keep the scalp in a healthy condition. This home-made tonic is used by women who have most beautiful hair and plenty of it, as well as those whose hair and scalp are not in perfect condition. The Beta-Quinol and alcohol can be procured at any drug store for 75¢ or 80¢ and they will make more and better hair tonic than you could buy for $2.00 in a manufactured state.

Prescription for Indigestion.

The following prescription is highly recommended for indigestion, sour stomach, gas and dyspepsia: Compound Tincture of Cluchona, one ounce; Sherry Wine, half a pint. Mix together and take a teaspoonful in a wine glass of water before meals. These ingredients can be obtained from any first class prescription drug store and can easily be mixed at home.

With three teams tied for second place, and one team with an unbroken record of victories, the games last night in the city basketball league made a slight change in the standing. All of the teams are bunched, and any team by a sport has a chance to lead the league. The Elks won their first game last night, when the Purple and White quintet downed the D. A. D. by a score of 17 to 11. The game was good with both teams striving for victory. The Chess, Checker and Whist club won easily from the High school team, although the school kids made a hard fight to pull a victory out of the fire. The final score was 38 to 19.

Another double header will be played next Wednesday night, and two new teams will be in the field, the Knights of Columbus and the Paducah Light and Power company. The halves were interesting, and a large crowd of enthusiasts were at the games.

LINCOLN STAMPS

CITY FORTUNATE

WILL BE ISSUED IN HONOR OF CENTENARY.

Hundred Million Two-Cent Stamps to Commemorate Great War President's Birthday.

Washington, Jan. 21.—To commemorate the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, Postmaster General Meyer announced that one hundred million new two-cent postage stamps will be issued on or before February 12 next. The next issue was provided for by a joint resolution of congress.

The design comprises the portrait of Lincoln in an ellipse, the only decoration being a spray of laurel leaves and the inscription "U. S. Postage" in a straight line at the top of the stamp with the numerals "1809—February 12—1909" at the bottom. The color of the design will be red as with the present two-cent stamp. The profile was taken from a copy in the Corcoran Art Galery in this city, of St. Gauden's statue of Lincoln in Chicago.

IN SECURING LECTURE OF PROF. GUY CARLETON LEE.

Hon. E. W. Bagby Writes Strong Letter of Endorsement of Popular Lecturer.

The Woman's club of this city is entitled to the gratitude of the community for its success in securing the services of that eminent historian, publicist and orator, Prof. Guy Carleton Lee, of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, who will deliver in this city, in February next, some three or four of his famous lectures.

Professor Lee is a native born southerner, and is one of the most scholarly and capable men in public life. His lectures are the product of the most extensive historical research and exhaustive study, and the principles he declares are enlivened with such a vigorous and picturesque style and such brilliant flights of oratory, that the scenes and events of history and the great characters, whose splendid lives have enriched the heritage of the race and molded the destinies of the world, are presented to his audience with all the life-like action of moving pictures. By his inspired historical teachings and his profound, comprehensive contributions to the great social, industrial and political problems, which just now are occupying the minds of thoughtful men and women everywhere, and by his large, enlightened and patriotic national aspirations, every lover of his country, who comes under the spell of his masterly eloquence, is encouraged to a broader, brighter and more hopeful view of his country's future. Those deeper meanings, motives and impulses, that lie concealed beneath that vast intellectual ferment, which is creating such a revolution at this time in all branches of thought and radically modifying existing institutions, by the magic power of his scholarly genius, are brought out in bold relief and in most entertaining and instructive review.

His work on historical jurisprudence, the splendid fruit of his long experience as a lecturer on the science of law in Columbian university, no lawyer can read without congratulating himself that he is a member of a profession that can furnish to the world the evidence of such accomplished authorship.

No intelligent woman can peruse the pages of any one of the ten volumes of that rare literary collaboration, devoted to the history and achievements of her sex, in which will be found the most comprehensive story of victorious womanhood ever written, without having a higher sense of the dignity and possibilities of her being.

When one reads the "True History of the Civil War," written by this distinguished author some five years ago, who was a participant on the Confederate side in that fearful struggle for national life, and considers the fairness with which he depicts and achievements, and the enviable fame they have contributed to his country's renown, both at home and abroad; because of the delightful and valuable instruction imparted by his incomparable lectures; and because of the supreme regard I have for his genuine personal worth, I feel impelled to speak thus ardently in his behalf.
